Excerpt: . . . 11 require that solution to address health needs and that are being used fundamentally for budget reasons where the government is purchasing lower-cost products and actually marking them up themselves and making a profit to sell them. So that is taking the flexibilities of TRIPS, in my view, too far. Having said that, the flexibilities of TRIPS are very important. So I would encourage, and I think the WHO Intergovernmental Working Group did a very good job of looking at this as a com-prehensive issue that recognizes the importance of intellectual property, recognizes the need to address access issues which cannot be done either by industry alone, by governments alone, or by non-governmental organizations alone. We need to all work together on that. The pharmaceutical industry - and I will not belabor it this morning - has, we think, a very proud record of doing what we can to enhance access. But clearly,...
