Excerpt from A Review of Education Progress in Ohio for the Current Year The most notable increase in endowment is at Wooster, namely, $231,568.00, Western Reserve being second with $176,766.67. Lake Erie College reports a hundred thousand increase; Cincinnati University, $80,00.00; Ohio Wesleyan, $63,000.00, chiefly gifts on the annuity plan; Mt. Union-Scio, a happy consummation but an awkward hyphenation, $20,000.00; Case, $14,000.00; and others in less amounts, or none at all. Kenyon, which owns residences for the members of her faculty, has a new President's house worth $20,000.00, a professor's house costing $8,000.00, and a new Alumni library, $50,000. Heidelberg opened her new $35,000.00 library last October, and will dedicate a new science building at the forthcoming Commencement. Muskingum has a new chapel, Cincinnati a new School of Commerce, Ohio State a new library, Western Reserve several new buildings and departments. Wilberforce will have a new science hall, Ohio Northern a $150,000.00 memorial structure in honor of Ex-President Lehr who founded that institution in 1866, and the Ohio Wesleyan has launched a campaign for an...
